How to combine Music and other subjects at UWA

At UWA, you don't have to choose between music and other interests—you can do both!

Here at the Conservatorium we offer one of Australia's most flexible and forward-thinking music programs. Students can pursue their passion in classical, music theatre, contemporary, electronic music, composition or musicology—guided by leading performers, composers, and researchers who are active at the highest levels in Australia and overseas. And for those with more than one interest, UWA's flexible degree structure makes it possible to combine music with another area of study, or even complete a full double degree.

WITHIN YOUR CHOSEN DEGREE STUDY A MUSIC MAJOR

Design your own course with our comprehensive bachelor's degrees. Choose a music major alongside another major or minor of your choice from across campus e.g. Music Theatre and Law & Society, Electronic Music and Computer Science or for classical musicians Music General Studies and Marketing.

Explore your interests with the flexibility to change your mind. You can even combine two diverse music majors e.g. Contemporary Popular Music and Electronic Music & Sound Design
